

skin surface temperature chart

light blue area is the ideal temperature range for deep tissue destruction

This chart compares skin surface temperatures obtained using the specified techniques. A surface tissue temperature range of -50° C to -80° C is ideal for effective deep tissue destruction

Chart data derived from Cimex Medical Innovations, L.C. bench tests